- ◆ Made weekly telephone calls to 33 domiciliary and 30 residential care providers up until March 31st 2021.
- ◆ Kept up to date with new national directives and guidelines in order to advise others.

COVID 19 Responses internal to Joint Training

We have:

- ◆ Taught ourselves how to develop and deliver live learning webinars. Requiring self-directed study, independent learning and peer support on how to do this new teaching method for us. We then created a range of live learning webinars to offer continued learning and development support to the sector.
- ◆ Continued to support to our MAPA® customers with blended learning. On-line, then face-to-face for physical skills where risk was identified as high. Also telephone support.
- ◆ Developed a U tube video re Mental Capacity and Deprivation of Liberty Safeguards.
- ◆ Developed and delivered 'live' distance learning to enable our End of Life Care, C&G level 3 learners, to complete their certificate in the planned time frame.
- ◆ Negotiated with Mental Health First Aid England to agree an on-line option which we are now providing.
- ◆ Sourced alternative options for Council Adult Services staff for mandatory training e.g. Care Certificate, Moving & Handling, First Aid.

Our MAPA® Approach to training during COVID 19

A blended learning approach was introduced April 2020. Staff complete 8 theory units online and attend follow up face to face session to practise physical interventions relevant to their role.

This reduces f2f time required to deliver to those learners needing this level of skills as identified via Training Needs Analysis. Telephone support to providers around specific support for individuals has also been provided e.g. support to engage with a resident to access their COVID vaccination when fearful of needles. Engagement from the sector has been excellent.

Coming later this year: Crisis Prevention Institution have revised their MAPA® training offer. The new name will be Safety Intervention and Verbal Intervention. The focus is on the same values and principles with a fresh approach to include new content with a focus on trauma informed care and person centredness. We will tell you more about this later in the year.

Keeping in touch with our lived experience experts

We maintained active involvement with our lived experience experts who have developed video's with us to use during live learning webinars. We have also provided peer support.

Stuart Jones said;

"It has helped me by keeping in touch with the team and Mary to find out what's happening with Joint Training. I have had the time to talk and text about my concerns like my vaccination and what category I was in, when it was safe to use transport again, using sanitiser and using a mask"

"It was important to do the webinars to keep giving the right message to learners about what it is like to be autistic although I am now looking forward to training people in the room again"

Examples of what people said about Joint Training 2020—21

Dementia Awareness received some time after the training. Learner said “I usually talk to the carer as I didn’t have the confidence to speak to the person with dementia themself. I am now using all the techniques that had been discussed in the webinar with Liz to communicate directly with the individual. By e-mail

Thanks Christine for the really useful information you sent through. I’m really impressed with how your team has transformed your service delivery in maintaining delivery of training in these challenging times. By e-mail

Care Certificate and Autism

I’ve been leading on the Care Cert. project this year to develop the additional resources you have recently tested and reviewed.

I wanted to express a huge thanks for your time, effort and input into looking at the resources for us.

The feedback received was very constructive and as a result we have been making some final amendments.

Sally, Project Manager in the Standards, Learning, Quals and Apprenticeship team here at Skills for Care (SLQA for short!). By e-mail

MAPA® Thank you, Lauren, for the training yesterday, both myself and my colleagues appreciate your efforts, in challenging COVID circumstances, to get across the subject matter as efficiently and engagingly as you did. We now can look forward to the challenges ahead appropriately armed with the tools to keep ourselves and client safe.

By e-mail

Joint Training is the only truly open door to support live access, non boundary, integrated learning in the County.
Health colleague

Mental Health First Aid Aware Thank you so much for allowing me to attend this course, it was very good and can I say Vicky Dudley presented some tough subjects very well, she has a lovely tone and I really enjoyed a good course.

I’d just like to say how impressed I was with the whole process from receiving the textbooks through the post to yesterday’s training webinar. Jade is a credit to the team.

Both by e-mail.

Just wanted to message you to say thank you for the training you ran on ‘Best Interests Decision Making’ and ‘Assessing Mental Capacity’ through Joint Training. I have recently been planning quite a complex BI meeting and capacity assessment and the information you shared really helped in both of these tasks.

I learnt things I didn’t previously know and feel more confident after the training so a big thank you for that!

By e-mail

The Care Certificate looked very daunting when I first started it but it was very interesting and satisfying to do as I learnt so much I didn’t know, i.e. Medication The ‘R’s, applying creams, medicated creams and gels.

Learning about how to spot signs of abuse including self-neglect & all the other different types of abuse.

Learning about how social interaction can help mentally and physically. By e-mail from START worker

Autism. It was all useful. Mary was excellent at studding the presentation with interesting examples. She drew us into the session using questions for discussion. Quotes, and information and video from the co-trainer were also good.

As a new volunteer at a riding centre, if I should come across a participant with autism, I will be aware of being clear and literal when I communicate with them. I'll check out prior to the riding session, any changes in the environment (including riding a different horse) which may affect them.

Evaluation feedback
