

I trust you will not mind me pointing out a possible error in the 'Explanation' section (para 2) affecting Church Stretton on page 112. You refer to scheduled monuments, but fail to mention the Caer Caradoc hillfort which is probably the most important nationally. I am also puzzled why no mention is made that the Stretton Hills form a National Character Area as designated by Natural England.

David Wilks